

"One of the very few producers who embraces house music, yet does not shy away from kuduro, the style in which he first honed his skills. He comes from kuduro, so you know drum patterns hold no secrets to him, and when he makes house music, it's highly percussive, irresistible stuff."

- The Fader

"What impressed me was how I could visualize this type of music in any New York club or Europe."

- Slate France

"Angolan producer DJ Satellite, who first came to our attention with his accidental UK Funky anthem Trombetas De Angola. Sterling stuff indeed!"

- Boiler Room

"One of Angola's foremost music producers, who's making a huge splash in the thriving afrohouse scene right now but refuses to let go of his kuduro roots. Expect a masterclass on Angolan dance music that must be witnessed (and danced to) on the front row."

- Enchufada

 www.facebook.com/OfficialDJSatellite

 www.twitter.com/djsatellite

 www.instagram.com/djsatellite

 www.youtube.com/DJSatellite

 www.soundcloud.com/djsatellite

 www.residentadvisor.net/dj/djsatellite

 ivan@wegoao.com

DJ Satellite, a native of Luanda, started his career by raw, passionate curiosity and quickly became one of the main drivers of Afro House and Kuduro in many lusophone countries. After dedicating years on his own productions, in 2006 he achieved notoriety as one of the co-producers of the album Estado Maior do Kuduro dos Lambas. It is also known as the first album produced by a local artist and gained stellar reviews in Angola. In particular, the hit single, "Se desfio" conquered the hearts of a huge fan base. Satellite's productions have been featured on the critically acclaimed film "I Love Kuduro".

Internationally acclaimed as one of the most prominent Angolan beatmakers, He also launched his own record label, Seres Produções in order to expose extraordinary music, including his new release "If Only" with the Moroccan producer Cee ElAssaad. 2016 is set to be an exceptional year of top quality releases with additional productions such as "Malembe na Soukouss", "Abantu" & "Xe Mana Bella". Including collaborations with Ancestral Soul master Bodhi Satva and the unique voice of Freddy Massamba, released by the globally recognized label Offering Recordings.

Satellite's journey has taken him to some of the biggest events and organizations, such as Red Bull Music Academy and the Ibiza International Music Summit. This year, he also got to show his live skills on Boiler Room, alongside Batida. He has also graced some established and innovative festivals such as Sfinks Festival, AfricaNouveau and the Ten Cities project. He has played for the legendary British DJ Fatboy Slim. DJ Satellite is an ambassador of the new Angolan sound and a pioneer of the African Electronic Music scene that burns dance floors all across the globe.